Presbyterian Churches

Québec - Montréal

The Presbyterian Churches of Quebec City

Quebec City 1764

About 1764, three hundred men of the Fraser Highlanders and the Black Watch regiments were disbanded and granted lands.

Quebec City 1786

The Quebec Gazette reported in 1786 a landing of 520 Highland Scots from Greenock at Québec. This is generally accepted as the first reliable report of a Scottish landing in British North America

Quebec City 1789

The Parish of Saint Andrew's was organized about 1789, the new church building opened on November 30th 1810 on Ste-Anne Street. The church still exist to this day at the same location – The parish was composed in the early to the mid-1800s of comfortable bourgeois Scots. Most Scots of the city were Presbyterians, although some Scots were members of other religious groups. Some of the commercial and administrative members of the Scottish community were Anglicans and a number of Catholic Highlanders settled in British North America. The latter group was especially the case of those who had served in the British Army. The latter and the former were to discover that Canada in comparison with Europe was a haven of religious tolerance – Most Scots prior to 1825 resided in Québec City or Montréal so that Presbyterianism before 1825 remained for the most part an urban phenomenon.

Quebec City 1861

Although Irish Catholics largely outnumbered all other immigrant groups in the area, Protestant immigration was nonetheless a fact. In 1861, the population of Québec City was 51,109, of whom, 41,477 were Catholics, 5,740 were Anglicans, 1,253 were Presbyterians, 859 were Free Church, over a 1,000 were Methodists and 15,000 to 16,000 were Irish Catholics.

1759 – Chapel of the Ursulines - Church of Scotland - Québec - The Presbyterians worshipped for a time in the chapel of the Ursulines, but it was in the Jesuit's College that their memorial service for General Wolfe was held - Regular church services of the Church of Scotland were held in the Chapel of the Ursulines, this agreement with the Order of the Ursulines would continue until 1807 – Rev. Robert MacPherson, chaplain of the Scottish Battalion of the 78th Fraser Highlanders, was presiding from 1759 to 1765 – Five years later, Rev. George Henry, another Scot and ex-chaplain, organized The Scotch Congregation in connection with the Church of Scotland – It met for worship in the former Jesuit College and did so until 1810 - Rev. Henry would serve from 1765 to 1784 - In 1784, another Scot, Rev. Alexander Spark would preside over the congregation until 1819 - In 1802, a petition signed by 148 persons including James Thompson, who fought with General James Wolfe at Québec was sent to King George III requesting a grant of land on Ste-Anne Street on which to build a church. The petition was granted and St. Andrew's Church was opened on November 30th 1810, during the ministry of Mr. Henry's successor, Dr. Alexander Spark - BAnQ films (1770-1825) - Quebec Records (1770-1825) - Ancestry.ca (1770-1825) - BAnQ books of marriages (1770-1859) - QFHS books #HG=156.9 G3 Historic Tales of Old Quebec & #HG 150 W6 Untold Tales of Old Québec - FamilySearch.org Online Parish Registers (1770-1795 & 1808-1900 & 1839-1882)

1770 – Chapel of the Jesuit Fathers - Church of Scotland - St. Andrew's Presbyterian – Québec - Rev. Alexander Spark, Minister and Kirkman, presiding in 1784 - The congregation would meet in the Chapel of the Jesuit Fathers from 1784 to 1807 - The congregation was provided by a strong influence by Dr. Spark from 1789 until 1819 - From 1807 to 1810, the congregation worshipped in the Chapel of the Jesuit College - In 1810, the congregation would open its own church on Ste-Anne Street and was renamed St. Andrew's Church - On Saint Andrew's Day, in the morning of November 30th 1810, services were held for the first time with Rev. Dr. Spark as pastor - In 1819 and 1820, Rev. Daniel Wilkie would preside – From 1820 to 1835, Rev. Dr. James Harkness was the pastor of the congregation – A plaque within the church acknowledge in part the co(1770-1941) - Quebec Records (1770-1941) - Ancestry.ca (1770-1941) - QFHS books #HG-156.9 G3 Historic Tales of Old Quebec & HG-150 W6 Untold Tales of Old Quebec - Chalmers Wesley United Church Archives Québec City, content of fonds not reported online - FamilySearch.org Online Parish Registers (1770-1795 & 1808-1900 & 1839-1882) contribution to the congregation by Dr. Spark and Dr. Harkness – From 1836 to 1884, Rev. Dr. John Cook, presided - Against the exterior wall of the church was erected a Saint Andrew Cross with the inscription “G. III R” (George III Roi) - BAnQ films)

The Presbyterian Churches of Montreal

1775 - 84th Regiment Prebyterian - St. Gabriel Street Presbyterian Church - Old Montreal -

The congregation would meet in a rented room on Notre-Dame Street in Old Montréal - The church services most likely were held in the old chapel of the Récollet Fathers on Notre Dame Street - Rev. John Bethune, presiding in March 12th 1786 - The above date in 1786 was not the first Presbyterian service held in Canada - In 1759 in Québec City during the terrible winter which followed the Battle of the Plains of Abraham, the first Presbyterian Church service was presided by Rev. Robert McPherson, chaplain of the 78th Fraser Highlanders - Five years later, Rev. George Henry, another Scot and ex-chaplain organized the Scotch Congregation in connection with the Church of Scotland - It met in the former Jesuit College in Québec City - BAnQ films (1779-1909) - Quebec Records (1779-1909) - Ancestry.ca (1779-1909) - FamilySearch.org Online Parish Registers (1779-1803)

1843 – American Presbyterian Chapel or Inspector Street Presbyterian Chapel - Griffintown

- Rev. J. McCloud, presiding in 1869 - Organized in 1843 on Inspector Street in Griffintown as a mission of the American Presbyterian Church, the latter located in 1843 at the corner of McGill and Great St. James in Old Montreal – After 1869, the main congregation had moved to the corner of Drummond and Dorchester – About 1887, a portion of the congregation of American Presbyterian Chapel of Inspector Street was amalgamated with Wesleyan Chapel, Montreal Second Methodist, Ottawa Street Methodist, all from the Griffintown district – The remaining Presbyterian members of Inspector Street Presbyterian would become in 1925, Inspector Street Mission United – In 1923, Rev. John Currie, long-time pastor at the Inspector Street Chapel died and based on newspaper reports of the day, Pastor Currie was highly regarded by members of the congregation - In 1931, the congregation was amalgamated with Mountain Street Methodist to form Central United. - BAnQ films (1843-1925 American Presbyterian & 1908-1925 Inspector Street Presbyterian & 1926-1932 Inspector Street United) - Quebec Records (1843-1925 American Presbyterian & 1908-1925 Inspector Street Presbyterian & 1926-1932 Inspector Street United) - Ancestry.ca (1843-1925 American Presbyterian & 1908-1925 Inspector Street Presbyterian & 1926-1932 Inspector Street United) - United Church Archives Montréal #P-603 S2 SS14 (1843-1934 American Presbyterian) - FamilySearch.org Online Parish Registers (1843-1882 American Presbyterian)

1864 – Norwood Union Presbyterian or St. Andrew's Presbyterian – St. Laurent - Cartierville - Ahuntsic - From 1864, the above congregations were somehow related to each other in some forms – It appears that the main body was first located in the district of Norwood in Cartierville on Gouin Boulevard next to the Rivière des Prairies (Back River) and that preaching points were organized in the Ahuntsic district, the latter located east of Bordeaux-Cartierville and in the St-Laurent district – The Anglicans had a similar approach for this region within the same time frame – It appears that St. Andrew's Presbyterian was located only in St. Laurent - All of the above eventually became Norwood United Pastoral Charge on de l'Église Street in St. Laurent - All of the above churches are now closed - BAnQ films (1898-1925 Norwood Presbyterian) - Quebec Records (1898-1925 Norwood Presbyterian) - Ancestry.ca (1898-1925 Norwood Presbyterian) - United Church Archives Montréal #UCC- (1898-1970 & 1923-1971 & 1972 to church closing) -
