Anns an toiseach bha am Facal, agus bha am Facal còmhla ri Dia, agus b' e am Facal Dia.
Eòin 1:1

The New Testament was first translated into Scottish Gaelic by Rev James Stuart, minister of Killin, and published in 1767 – barely 20 years after the battle of Culloden. His son John, minister of Luss, was the main translator of the Old Testament, completed in 1801.

In recent years, the future of Gaelic in education and public life has received much attention as the language flourishes. However, the gap between everyday Gaelic in common use and the Gaelic in the most recent Bible edition continues to widen.

Counties & towns

Arran Scotch Settlement

A large area settled by Scottish families located within Inverness township and first settled in 1817, the area was also bordered by Gosford road to the east, Dublin range to the north, Somerset township to the west and Adderley and St-Pierre-Baptiste to the south - The region does not exist anymore, at least under this name. It became Hendersonvale, Adderley, Milanville, Millfield, St. Pierre-Baptiste within modern-day Mégantic County.

Arthabaska County

The word Arthabaska is a deformation of a First Nation word of Ayabaskaw - Prior to 1792, Arthabaska was part of Buckinghamshire. In 1855, Arthabaska was established as a county. The same year, the townships of Arthabaska, Aston, Blandford, Bulstrode, Maddington, Somerset, Stanfold, Warwick were formed - The county is located west of Mégantic county, northwest of Wolfe county, east of Drummond county, southeast of Nicolet county and west of Lotbinière county

Arthabaska Township - Arthabaska

First settled in 1802, an original township located south of Somerset, Stanfold, Bulstrode townships, east of Horton township, north of Warwick, Chester and Halifax townships

Arthabaska Village - Arthabaska

First settled in 1807, a small village near present day Victoriaville

Aston Township - Arthabaska

An original township located east of Maddington township, west of Wendover township, north of Horton township, west of Bulstrode township

Augmentation - Arthabaska

No longer exist, a stretch of lands of the 1880s, a region within the eastern portion of the county in the direction of Lotbinière county also referred to on maps of the period as Bad Lands or Wild Lands or Rocky Lands or simply lands which were not previously assigned to a township or a county - The expressions outlined above can also be found in numerous other regions of Lower Canada

Blandford Township - Arthabaska

A township and village of the early 1800s located east of Maddington township, north of Bulstrode and Stanfold townships, northwest of Somerset township - The village and township of Blandford is now St-Louis-de-Blandford and Manseau and St-Joseph de Blandford and Ste-Marie-de-Blandford

Bulstrode Township - Arthabaska

A township first settled in 1803 and located between Stanfold to the east and Aston to the west, and Arthabaska village to the south and Maddington to the north.

Chester - Arthabaska

Chester is now part of Arthabaska county, some of the early church registers of this village might have been found among those of Mégantic - First settled in 1802 and located south of Arthabaska township, southwest of Halifax township, west of Wolfetown township, north of Ham township and Tingwick township and east of Warwick township.

1895 - Mission Unie de l'Église Unie aux Saints-Martyrs Canadiens (Église Presbytérienne) de Chester - United Church Archives ETRC Lennoxville #UC-056 (1895-1975)

Chesterville - Arthabaska

Also referred to about 1805 as Chester, a village located south of Victoria (Victoriaville)

Daveluyville (Daveley) - Arthabaska

A village located south of Bécancour, east of Princeville

East Chester - Arthabaska

In 1887, the townships of East Chester, North Chester, West Chester were established within the county as official townships.

Horton Township - Arthabaska

An original township of the early 1800s located south of Aston township, west of Bulstrode township, south of Wendover township, east of Simpson township, north of Warwick township - Horton is today's St-Samuel-de-Horton and Ste-Clothilde-de-Horton

Maddington Township - Arthabaska

A hamlet and township established in 1808. located west of Blanford township, north of Bullstrode township, east of Aston

Norbertville - Arthabaska

A hamlet located northeast of Victoria (Victoriaville), a few km south of Somerset (Princeville)

North Chester - Arthabaska

see also East Chester

Princeville - Arthabaska

Located halfway between Victoria (Victoriaville) and Plessisville

Somerset Township - Arthabaska

First settled in 1804, an original township located southwest of Nelson township, west of Inverness township, north of Halifax and Arthabaska townships, east of Stanfold township

Somerset - Arthabaska

Now referred to as Princeville, a mid size town, it was actually one of the earliest Anglo Protestant village of the region. Somehow, Protestant Missionary Societies with surviving civil registers do not list the hamlet of Somerset as a base of missionary work - Missionaries from Inverness and Halifax townships were those who ministered the Protestant families of Somerset

Stanford Township - Arthabaska

A township and village first settled in 1807 and located south of Blanford township, southwest of Somerset township, north of Arthabaska township, east of Bulstrode township

Tingwick Township - Arthabaska

First established in 1804, the township of Tingwick was located southeast of Warwick, west of Ham, northwest of Wotton, southwest of Chester, northeast of Shipton, east of Kingsey hamlets, villages, townships

Tingwick Village - Arthabaska

Troutbrook - Arthabaska

Located 7 km south of Tingwick, within Arthabaska, only a Protestant cemetery remains in this hamlet

1840s - Trout Brook Cemetery -

www.interment.net/can/qc/arthabaska.htm

Victoria - Arthabaska

Now referred to as Victoriaville, first established in 1850

Villeroy - Arthabaska

Located north of Victoriaville, Princeville, Plessisville - The Anglo Protestants of this region of the county were mainly residing in Somerset (Princeville)

Warwick - Arthabaska

First settled in 1804 and located south of Victoria (Victoriaville) toward Kingsey Falls - Warwick plus the town of Lingwick within Arthabaska were the centres of the Anglo Protestant presence of that region since the early 1800s

Warwick Township - Arthabaska

First settled in the early 1800s and located northwest of Tingwick, west of Chester, south of Bulstrode, southwest of Arthabaska township, east of Simpson townships

West Chester - Arthabaska

A village of the early 1800s, the village was located south of Victoria (Victoriaville)

Beauce County

Located south of Lotbinière, west of Dorchester, east of Frontenac and Compton and north of the state of Maine - In 1792, the following hamlets were part of Beauce county; Agnes, Armstrong, Ditchfield, Ditchland, Dorset, Hartwell, Jersey, Jersey Mills, Kennebec Road, Lake Megantic, Linière, Marlow, Morrow's, Risborough, Scott Junction, Shenley, Spalding, St. George, Ste-Marie, Tring, Tring Junction, West Broughton

Armstrong - Beauce

Located east and south of St. George in Beauce, next to the Maine border

1878 - Jersey Mills Presbyterian Circuit - It does not appear that an actual church building was erected in Armstrong or if it was it was only for a short period of time - United Church Archives ETRC Lennoxville #PC-013 (1883-1948 Jersey Mills Presbyterian) - <http://www.etc.ca/fonds/pc013-jersey-mills-presbyterian-church-st-george-fonds.html>

Risborough - Beauce

Located south of Marlow, north of the state of Maine, east of Spalding, south of Gayhurst and Dorset - In 1912, some of the preceding towns and villages would be assigned to Frontenac county when the latter was created

Seigniory of St. Mary - Beauce

Was located within Beauce county, now referred to as Ste-Marie-de-Beauce, the second largest city in Beauce county.

Spalding (Spaulding) Township - Beauce

First settled about 1803 and located north of the state of Maine, east of Ditchland (Ditchfield), south of Gayhurst, west of Risborough - At the formation of Frontenac county in 1912, the town was assigned from Beauce to Frontenac - Early church records would most likely indicate as being part of Beauce county or territory in it's earliest time period.

St. Georges de Beauce - Beauce

Today's city of Saint-Georges was also associated with nearby village of Cumberland Mills among Anglican church documents - Among early church registers, the town was spelled as St. George in Protestant documents, and spelled as St-Georges in Catholic French documents - Some of the Irish Priests omitted the "s" - The only mid-size city within the county

1878 - Jersey Mills Presbyterian Circuit with preaching points in St. George, Marlow, Kennebec Road - United Church Archives ETRC Lennoxville #PC-013 (1852-1958 Jersey Mills Presbyterian) - BAnQ film (1895-1910) - Quebec Records (1895-1910) - Ancestry.ca (1895-1910) -

Tring Junction - Beauce - Located within Tring township along the Chaudière river between St-Joseph-de-Beauce and St-Georges-de-Beauce - see St. Sylvester in Lotbinière

Valley Junction - Beauce

Located north of St-Joseph-de-Beauce and south of Ste-Marie-de-Beauce

Buckinghamshire

A vast territory created in 1763 which extended from the Seigniorie of St. Giles (Lotbinière County today) in the east to the Richelieu Valley in the west, south to the US border and north to the various Seigniories (Seigneuries) located on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River from Sorel on the Richelieu to Lévis across Québec City - Some of the earliest church records of the pioneer families from Scotland, Northern Ireland, England might indicate the name of Buckinghamshire as their place of residence - In 1791, the territory of Buckinghamshire no longer existed, it was replaced in part by the county of Buckingham - In 1829, the latter was subdivided into the 6 counties of Sherbrooke, Mégantic, Lotbinière, Drummond, Nicolet, Yamaska.

Buckingham County

1791-1829 - Prior to 1791, the region now known as Compton county was part of a large territory known at the time as Buckinghamshire - In 1793, the county of Buckingham was established with the following boundaries; a portion of today's Compton county with the exception of part of the Township of Compton, the latter was then located in Richelieu County along with the present county of Stanstead - In 1829 Buckingham County was divided into the six counties of Sherbrooke, Mégantic, Lotbinière, Drummond, Nicolet, Yamaska

Craig's Road

The Governor of Lower Canada, Sir James Henry Craig issued a decree in 1810 for the construction of a road between St-Nicolas on the St. Lawrence, through the Seigniorie of St. Giles in today's Lotbinière, through Mégantic to Danville in the Richmond region, the latter was then part of an immense territory known as Buckingham county - Richmond would later become part of a new county by the same name of Richmond

Craig's Road Ministries

Starting about 1830 various Protestant denominations would send out missionaries to hamlets, farming communities located along Craig's Road - Some of the early documents dealing with baptisms, marriages of the Anglican, Presbyterian, Wesleyan Methodist, Congregational and Baptist churches will sometime indicate Craig Road Mission or Missions. Among those missionaries were the New Ireland Methodist, New Ireland Reformed Presbyterian and Craig Road Baptist.

1833 - Craig's Road Reformed Presbyterian Synod Missions, also referred to as Reid's

Presbyterian, with preaching points in Leeds, Inverness, New Ireland, Halifax, Leeds Village, St. Sylvester, St. Giles, Broughton plus other hamlets and villages through-out Mégantic, Lotbinière, Frontenac - United Church Archives ETRC Lennoxville #PC-017 (1833-1943 Reid's Presbyterian (Lemesurier)) - BAnQ films (1833-1942 Leeds & Inverness Presbyterian) - Quebec Records (1833-1942 Inverness & Leeds Presbyterian) - Ancestry.ca (1833-1942 Inverness & Leeds Presbyterian) - QFHS films (1880-1900 & 1856-1879 Inverness Presbyterian) & (1833-1834 & 1838-1839 & 1881-1900 Leeds & 1848 Leeds Presbyterian) <http://www.etc.ca/fonds/pc017-reids-presbyterian-church-lemesurier-fonds.html>

Gosford Road

In 1834, the Governor of Lower Canada, Archibald Acheson, Count of Gosford ordered the construction of a second road, this one between the Seignior of St. Agatha (Sainte-Agathe) in today's Lotbinière, through Halifax, Inverness, Nelson, Ireland townships and the village of Maple Grove toward Sherbrooke - see also Craig's Road

Gosford Road Ministries

In comparison to the various Craig's Road Ministries, it does not appear that Presbyterians, Methodists, Congregationalists, Baptists used the expression Gosford Road Ministry in describing some of their missions located along Gosford Road, at least in most of the church records listed within this research guide, I stand to be corrected.

Compton County

1853-1896 - In 1853, the county of Compton was established, previously formed from part of Sherbrooke county - In 1853 Compton was bordered to the east by Beauce, on the southeast by the limits of the Province at the US Border, on the northwest by the counties of Wolfe and Sherbrooke and the town of Sherbrooke, and on the southwest by the western and southern limits of the township of Compton, and the western limit of the township of Hereford - In 1853 Compton county included the townships of Compton, Westbury, Eaton, Clifton, Hereford, Bury, Newport, Auckland, Lingwick, Hampden, Ditton, Winslow, Whitton, Marston, Chesham, part of Clinton.

Compton Region - Pioneer Days - As early as 1752, townships were surveyed by British at Coos in New Hampshire, distant from Hereford by about 20 miles, on the Connecticut river - Prior to 1792 Empire Loyalists took up residence in the Townships first in Missisquoi Bay and Lake Memphremagog - Reliable sources also places the arrival of other American settlers after 1792 in the region which would become Buckingham county (1792) and later Sherbrooke county (1829) - Compton county was established in 1853, from part of Sherbrooke county

Aylmer - Compton & Frontenac

First settled about 1850 by Scottish families - A village located east of Winslow and south of Lambton, north of Gayhurst, within the ancient township of Dorset in today's Frontenac county - Missionaries from Compton county were most likely the first to minister to this region, followed by those from Beauce county.

Baile Bharabhais - Compton & Frontenac

A Scottish settlement of the 1840s or 1850s, location unknown either in Compton or Frontenac counties

Baile Shiadair - Compton & Frontenac

A Scottish settlement of the 1840s or 1850s, location unknown, most likely within Compton or Frontenac counties.

Ballalan - Compton & Frontenac

A Scottish settlement of the 1840s or 1850s, located in the Bury, Robinson region - see Bury and Robinson for civil registers (church registers)

Birchton - Compton

A village within Eaton township and located south of Sandhill, east of Johnville, west of Cookshire, north of Eaton

1925 – Birchton United Church – United Church Archives ETRC Lennoxville #UC-017 (1879-1993 & 2009) & #UC-027 (1894-1967) - BAnQ film (1926-1942) - Quebec Records (1926-1942) - Ancestry.ca (1926-1942) - St. Francis District Protestant Families - 1815-1879 - #9 baptisms 1240 pages #10 marriages 774 pages - #11 deaths 791 pages - Compton County Protestant Families - #56 births 1815-1994 510 pages - #57 marriages 1816-1994 261 pages - #58 deaths 1800-1994 355 pages

Mégantic County

The story of the Scottish and Irish pioneers who settled these Appalachian highlands from the 1820's onward - Evicted from their farms in the Scottish Hebrides, or fleeing famine in Ireland, they carved homesteads out of the bush, founding communities like Inverness, Leeds, Kinnear's Mills, Adderley and Maple Grove. And then, gradually, they moved away, leaving a legacy of clapboard churches, hillside cemeteries and abandoned farms. The preceding is a short excerpt only - Full text by Marian Scott available on <http://www.montrealgazette.com/travel/> - An article with the title; Au coeur du Québec, the soul of the Celts, published by the Montreal Gazette on July 19, 2009, available on the internet.
